REPORT ON THE SEMINAR ORGANISED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

On 7th March 2023 (2022-2023 Academic year)

The Department of Political Science of E.K.N.M Government College, Elerithattu hosted a seminar on Research Methodology on March 7, 2023. The seminar aimed to deepen the students' understanding of various research methods applicable in the field of political science. It provided a platform for students and faculty members to explore diverse methodologies, from quantitative to qualitative approaches, and their practical applications in political science research. The resource person for the programme was Dr. Dinesan DA, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of Political Science, Payyannur College, Payyannur, Kannur.

The programme commenced at 10 AM with Dr Ganesan DA, the Program Coordinator and Head of the Department of Political Science, delivering a welcoming address. He extended a warm and cordial greeting to all dignitaries and participants, setting a hospitable tone for the event. The program was presided over by Dr Solji K Thomas, the Honourable Principal of EKNM Government College. The resource person shared insights into different aspects of research methodology. Attendees benefited from lectures covering topics such as data collection techniques, sampling methodologies, and data analysis procedures. Interactive sessions encouraged active participation, fostering a dynamic exchange of ideas among participants and speaker. Practical examples and case studies enhanced understanding and showcased the relevance of research methods in political analysis.

The Research Methodology Seminar organized by the Department of Political Science was a valuable educational experience. It equipped participants with essential tools and skills for conducting rigorous political research. By facilitating networking opportunities and promoting collaborative learning, the seminar contributed to the professional development of students and faculty members alike. Overall, it was a successful event that furthered the department's commitment to promoting excellence in political science scholarship.

Name of the workshop/ seminar/ conference: Introduction to Intellectual Property Rights

Report on the Seminar on 'Introduction to Intellectual Property Rights' On 22 March 2023

On 22/03/2023, the Department of Political Science at E.K.N.M Government College, Elerihattu, organised an enlightening seminar on the theme "Introduction to Intellectual Property Rights" (IPR). This seminar aimed to provide an in-depth understanding of the various aspects of intellectual property rights and their significance in the modern world. The event witnessed participation from students, faculty members, and distinguished guests.

The seminar commenced with the opening notes by Dr. Narayanan P, faculty member of the Department of Economics, K.M.M. Government Women's College, Kannur, who chaired the session. Dr. Narayanan highlighted the importance of understanding intellectual property rights in today's knowledge-driven economy and emphasised the role of such seminars in enhancing the academic and practical knowledge of the students.

Following the welcome address, the Principal-in-charge, Dr. K.A . Johnson, delivered the presidential address. Dr. Johnson expressed his appreciation for organising the seminar on such a pertinent topic and underscored the college's commitment to fostering a culture of intellectual curiosity and legal awareness among its students. He elaborated on the critical role of intellectual property rights in promoting innovation, creativity, and economic development.

The keynote address was delivered by Ms. Jilu Lisbath George, a distinguished research scholar from the Central University of Kerala. Ms Jilu Lisbath George, provided a comprehensive introduction to intellectual property rights, covering various essential aspects such as the definition and types of intellectual property rights (including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets), the importance of intellectual property rights in encouraging innovation and creativity, promoting economic growth and development, and protecting consumer interests. She also discussed the legal framework and international treaties relevant to IPR, including an overview of national and international IPR laws, the role of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), and key international agreements such as the TRIPS Agreement.

The resource person addressed challenges and issues in intellectual property rights, including piracy and counterfeiting, enforcement of IPR, and balancing public interest and private rights. He supplemented his presentation with case studies and real-world applications, showcasing examples of successful intellectual property management and the impact of IPR on various industries such as pharmaceuticals, technology, and entertainment.

Following the keynote address, an interactive session was held, allowing participants to ask questions and engage in discussions. This segment facilitated a deeper understanding of the practical implications of intellectual property rights and provided valuable insights into current challenges and future trends in the field.

The seminar concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Mr. Mithun P. V , a faculty member of the department of Political Science. He expressed gratitude to the resource person for her enlightening presentation and thanked the principal, faculty members, and students for their active participation. He also acknowledged the efforts of the organising committee in making the seminar a success.

The seminar on "Introduction to Intellectual Property Rights" was a significant event that enriched the participants' understanding of IPR and its critical role in the modern world. The discussions and interactions during the seminar highlighted the need for continuous learning and awareness in the field of intellectual property, particularly for students and aspiring professionals.
