A comprehensive lecture was conducted by Lt. Aravindan S.S., Assistant Professor, Department of Functional English for all the students of EKNM Govt. College on 11th January 2022. The two-hour session began by 3.30 p.m. at the seminar hall. The session was organized as part of the Capacity Building Programme by the Department of Functional English. The lecture aimed at providing a fundamental understanding of the principles of body language and non-verbal communication in proper and effective interaction. The resource person illustrated how to develop practical skills in using body language to enhance verbal messages, establish rapport, convey confidence, credibility, and empathy in interpersonal interactions. The session was interactive and over 65 students from all the departments participated. The speaker emphasized the need to observe and analyse real-life communication instances to earn proficiency in body language. He also reflected how important this knowledge is in professional settings such as for job interviews, public speaking and, also in developing interpersonal relationships.
